MISPLACED FLOWERS.

A Berkeley murderer, who has been in jail less than a week, is daily almost smothered by blossoms of purity sent in by women otherwise sane and decent. The circumstance is not only an argument in favor of capital punishment, but argues the beauty of applying it in a hurry. —Examiner.

Why women professing to be "sane and decent," should devote any of their time and attention to a man who has taken a human life without just provocation under the law, is one of the unsolvable mysteries of life. Why they should place flowers in his hands, stained with the blood of a fellow creature, thereby desecrating the beautiful products of their Creator's handiwork, will never be explained. There can be no good reason for doing so, and the women who thus reward wickedness and crime have gone very wide of the work God intended they should perform.

The "ministering hands" of women are never meant to place floral crowns on the brow of such inhuman wretches.

But since the creation of this unfortunate world, woman has always upheld and condoned wickedness and crime in man, after it has been committed, and will always make heroes of the other sex. Did anybody ever hear of a murderer having flowers brought to her by either sex?

No; and nobody ever will.

A Visionary Hermit.

Rondout, N. Y., November 16.—Ira Krum, a fanatic who for years has claimed to have revelations from God and has lived a hermit's life died at his home in Snyder Hollow, among the Catskills, last night. His death is thought to have been caused by starvation.

He announced some time ago that he had had a vision, in which he had been told that if he should fast for forty days he would be able to walk upon the water. He fasted the required number of days and then he attempted to walk on the water, but he was nearly drowned.

Not long after this he declared that he had had another vision, in which he had been commanded to fast twenty days more. He started on this fast, but became so broken down that neighbors compelled him to take nourishment. But the intervention came too late. Krum was extremely religious and claimed to have many visions.

Bill Witherow, who shot a man by the name of Mitchell in Inyo county last Summer, has been discharged by the Superior Court.
